The Stick-to-it Money Management System

In today's turbulent economy, it's vital to teach our children proper money management. They not only need the essential skills for wise money handling, but PRACTICE incorporating this knowledge into their lives; for with practice comes healthy financial habits which will help our children stay out of debt, make good decisions, save and feel a great sense of success. An informed citizenry, practicing sound financial principles, is our best defense. Let's raise up a generation who are willing to stand up for freedom.
